President's Report

This year marked the first full-year of Victoria's public galleries being open to the public since the COVID-19 pandemic began in March 2020. It also marked the first year of the PGAV's 2022-2025 Strategic Plan – which is focused on addressing the sustainability challenges faced by galleries across the state.

While these challenges - limited staffing, budgets and ageing infrastructure - predate COVID-19, they were exacerbated by the pandemic. As the sector transitioned quickly to deliver its services online to ensure audiences had access to the arts during the depths of the pandemic, it did so with the loss of casual staff and volunteers and few additional resources. The uncertainty of not knowing when galleries would be allowed to reopen saw the sector spiral into planning overdrive for two and a half years - placing incredible stress on gallery staff. In 2022, as gallery doors remained open, this stress finally began to ease. However, we now see inflation impacting gallery budgets as local and state governments and universities rush to pay back COVID-19 related spending faster than expected.

While there is a large body of research demonstrating the wellbeing benefits that come from engaging with the arts, a fact our members made very evident during the pandemic, funding of small to medium galleries remained stagnant. In the face of increasing costs, public gallery funding is declining in real terms.

In 2022, the PGAV Board engaged CPR, a leading communications and government relations consultancy, to work with us to bring about change. Following roundtables with PGAV members and desktop research of PGAV benchmarking and reports, Public Galleries: Our Creative Heart was developed.

This initiative is aimed at attracting additional funding from state government by establishing a unified voice, articulating the role and value of galleries, and explaining the investment required.

Award winning design company Pidgeon Ward was engaged to create a compelling visual identity. They arrived at a solution which communicates the seriousness of the situation and the sense of wonder gallery audiences experience when engaging with the visual arts.

In October 2022 the PGAV board and staff met with government and Creative Victoria to outline our investment priorities for the public gallery sector. We have been buoyed by the positive response to our campaign. PGAV looks forward to continuing our engagement with government to ensure public galleries are no longer seen as a 'nice to have' and come to be recognised as a 'must have' – vital to the social, cultural and economic wellbeing of all Victorians.

Throughout the year, PGAV delivered a second series of the NGV Conservation Webinars to support collection care and management of public gallery collections. This series has been incredibly well received, attracting staff from galleries across Victoria, Australia and New Zealand. We also delivered an information session for the Regional Collections Access Program (RCAP), a $4m Victorian Government funding program to support equipment and infrastructure upgrades at galleries and museums across outer metropolitan and regional Victoria. The PGAV is pleased to have been involved in the design, development and assessment of RCAP – a much needed investment in Victoria's cultural infrastructure.

This year saw the PGAV partner with Arts Law Centre of Australia to develop a fact sheet and deliver an information session to assist galleries with managing copyright when digitising their collections. I am pleased to report the fact sheet, Digitising Collections – Copyright Essentials was included in the second edition of the National Standards for Australian Museums and Galleries – reflecting the relevance of our work to collecting institutions across Australia.

The PGAV made a submission to the Australian Government to inform the development of A new National Cultural Policy. Our submission includes twenty recommendations to address sustainability challenges and ensure Victoria's public galleries remain a driving force in Australia's creative sector.

The Robert Salzer Foundation Acquisition Fund was reinstated this year. Now in its fifteenth year, the Fund has provided $921,758 to enable eligible galleries to acquire 253 works of art by 88 visual artists. We thank the Robert Salzer Foundation for its remarkable support of the sector, which has enabled eligible galleries to acquire works by Australia's leading visual artists.

On behalf of the Board, I would like to thank PGAV's staff - Executive Officer, Anne Robertson and Communications Officer, Lucy Whitehill for their outstanding work throughout the year.

I take this opportunity to thank my colleagues on the PGAV Board for sharing their expertise and ideas for the benefit of Victoria's public gallery sector. Vanessa Gerrans resigned from the Board in April, with Gabriella Calandro, Sim Luttin and Simone Nolan being elected at the AGM. Emily Fiori from Screen Victoria and Madeleine Mulholland from Office of the Commonwealth Games served on the Board as part of The Observership Program.

I look forward to working with our members and supporters over the coming year as we roll-out the Public Galleries: Our Creative Heart initiative to our audiences and continue to build a compelling case with the Victorian Government for greater investment in public galleries.

Guests heard from Sarah Craig, CEO, Hellenic Museum, Simone Nolan, Director, Wangaratta Art Gallery, Louise Tegart, Director, Art Gallery of Ballarat and Georgia Cribb, Director, Bunjil Place.

IMPACT OF OUR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The 2022 Professional Development Program attracted 463 participants, 29% were from regional galleries and 14% from interstate galleries. Through evaluation of the program we learned that it provided participants with new knowledge which they could apply in their galleries. While the program was largely delivered online this year, that didn't prevent participants from feeling connected and learning from one another: "It was excellent to be able to gain an insight into the sustainability efforts of colleagues, both large and small. Always wonderful to be able to share ideas and not feel as though working in isolation in a complex and difficult (yet rewarding) area such as sustainability." (Participant feedback from the NGV Conservation webinar on Sustainability and Collection Care Practices).

CONSULTANT DIRECTORY & SUPPLIERS LIST

The PGAV maintains an online Consultant Directory to assist our members with identifying sole traders and companies that provide specialist services to the public gallery sector in Victoria. In 2022, the PGAV developed a Suppliers List to assist with sourcing materials for all aspects of gallery practice – exhibitions, touring, public & education programs through to collection management. The Consultant Directory & Suppliers List are available from the Resources section of the PGAV website: <https://pgav.org.au/Resources~209>

REGIONAL COLLECTIONS ACCESS PROGRAM

The PGAV partnered with Creative Victoria, Regional Arts Victoria, AMAGA Victoria and the NGV to deliver the Victorian Government's Regional Collections Access Program (RCAP). The $4m program was designed to support outer metropolitan and regional galleries and museums to upgrade their facilities, enabling them to better care for their collections, attract major touring exhibitions, borrow work from key lenders and draw visitors to their regions.

In January the PGAV and AMAGA Victoria delivered an Information Session about RCAP. The session covered the program's objectives, eligibility requirements and tips on making a strong application. RCAP received 53 applications seeking $6.3m for facility upgrades at galleries and museums in outer metropolitan growth corridors and regional Victoria. Thirty-six galleries and museums shared in the $4m funding pool – including Hamilton Gallery, which was funded to upgrade its ageing climate controls and lighting systems, and the Art Gallery of Ballarat – the oldest regional gallery in Australia – to address challenges posed by its ageing infrastructure. The full list of recipients is available on the Creative Victoria website: https://creative.vic.gov.au/news/2022/\$4-million-investment-to-upgrade-regional-galleries-and-museums

In 2023 the PGAV will publish case studies of the gallery infrastructure upgrades, mapping the impact of the Victorian Government's investment in galleries and their audiences.

ROBERT SALZER FOUNDATION ACQUISITION FUND

The Robert Salzer Foundation provides funding to the PGAV to enable public galleries in Victoria to acquire two-dimensional works of art for their collections. To be eligible, galleries must receive operational funding from Creative Victoria and provide matched funding.

Due to the impact of COVID-19, the Robert Salzer Foundation made the difficult decision to redirect funding from the Acquisition Fund to the performing arts sector in 2021. We were thrilled to be advised by the Robert Salzer Foundation that the Acquisition Fund will resume in 2022.

In 2022 the Robert Salzer Fund supported the following acquisitions:

- Benalla Art Gallery acquired four works by Atong Atem from three series - Banksia, To Be Real and Surat, and three lumachrome glass prints by Judith Nangala Crispin;
- Geelong Gallery acquired Rose Nolan's Big Words – trying to get it right and righter; and
- Shepparton Art Museum acquired Khadim Ali's work Untitled #5 from the Flowers of Evil series.

The VFLAA aims to support living Australian artists. Applications were assessed by James Lynch, Curator, Deakin University Art Gallery, Mardi Nowak, Head of Visual Arts, RACV and Olivia Poloni, Curator, Wyndham Art Gallery.

The Robert Salzer Foundation has provided $921,758 to support the acquisition of 253 works of art for public collections. The PGAV extends our sincere thanks to the Foundation for its support of the public gallery sector in Victoria through this program.

VFLAA

The Victorian Foundation for Living Australian Artists (VFLAA) was established in 2002 with a grant of $5m from the Victorian Government, matched by the National Gallery of Victoria.

The VFLAA purchases significant contemporary visual artworks by Australian artists for the NGV Collection and for touring and lending to the network of metropolitan and regional galleries of Victoria.

The PGAV makes recommendations for the two Regional Gallery Directors represented on the foundation, who are appointed by the Minister for Creative Industries.

In 2022, Louise Tegart, Director, Art Gallery of Ballarat completed her tenure, Eric Nash, Director of Benalla Art Gallery continued his tenure and was joined by Simone Nolan, Director, Wangaratta Art Gallery.

Over the year the VFLAA acquired 85 artworks by 39 visual artists, including 18 First Nations visual artists. Nine works from VFLAA collection were loaned to four regional and outer metropolitan public galleries.

Research

The PGAV undertakes research of the public gallery sector in Victoria to identify challenges and opportunities facing the sector. Insights from our research are used for advocacy and the delivery of programs and services to address these challenges and harness new opportunities for the sector.

IDENTIFYING INVESTMENT PRIORITIES

In May 2022, PGAV engaged CPR – a leading communications and public relations consultancy to distil our knowledge of the sector, help articulate the role and value of galleries, identify investment priorities, and outline our approach to government to address funding shortfalls.

Following a review of PGAV benchmarking, reports and government submissions, CPR held workshops with PGAV members in June and July. Sixteen member galleries, including eight regional galleries took part in the consultation. The workshops highlighted that long-standing sustainability issues, linked to staffing, collection conservation and ageing infrastructure, were placing a handbrake on the impact of the sector.

In August, CPR delivered an Advocacy Strategy which defined our investment priorities under the slogan Public Galleries: Our Creative Heart, and recommended the PGAV escalate its advocacy efforts in the lead up to the 2022 Victorian election.

In September, PGAV engaged Pidgeon Ward to work with us to refine the brand and create a visual identity. Integrating agitprop aesthetics and a playful dot motif, Pidgeon Ward arrived at a solution which communicates the seriousness of the situation and the sense of wonder our audiences experience when engaging with the visual arts.

In October, we held meetings with ministerial advisors, members of parliament and Creative Victoria to share our vision for Victoria's public galleries and seek the investment required to make it a reality. Public Galleries: Our Creative Heart is comprised of four investment priorities:

Art for All – a minimum service guarantee for Victorian public galleries to address chronic sustainability challenges;

Invest in People – increasing First Nations Curators, preserving our collections and providing pathways into creative careers;

Build Better Galleries – funding world-class gallery experiences in suburban and regional Victoria; and Connected, Healthy Communities – piloting arts based health and wellbeing programs at galleries across Victoria.

Buoyed by the positive response we received from government, the PGAV has begun work on a launch of Public Galleries: Our Creative Heart at Parliament House in early 2023.

Advocacy

The PGAV draws on its research and consultation with members and key stakeholders to deliver effective advocacy for the public gallery sector in Victoria.

DIGITISING COLLECTIONS - COPYRIGHT ESSENTIALS

As public galleries digitise their collection to increase engagement and drive visitation to their venues, the PGAV commissioned Arts Law Centre of Australia to develop a fact sheet and deliver an information session on best practice approaches to copyright when digitising collections and making them available online.

The fact sheet provides guidance on copyright, moral rights, Indigenous Cultural Intellectual Property (ICIP) and making collection items available on third party websites such as Victorian Collection or Trove. It also addresses 'orphan works' – when a gallery cannot find the copyright owners of artworks.

To coincide with the publication of the fact sheet, Suzanne Derry, Senior Solicitor and Aditya Vasudevan, Solicitor from Arts Law delivered an information session for PGAV Members in June. Over 90 people from across Victoria and interstate registered to attend the session – with those attending rating the session highly, telling us they gained new knowledge.

The fact sheet was included in the second edition of the National Standards for Australia Museums and Galleries – reflecting the relevance of the topic and the quality of the guidance provided for staff at collecting institutions across the country.

Digitising Collections – Copyright Essentials is available from the PGAV website: <https://pgav.org.au/PGAV-FACT-SHEET-Digitising-Collections-Copyright-Essentials~8361>

A NEW NATIONAL CULTURAL POLICY

In August 2022, the PGAV made a submission to the Australian Government to inform its development of a new National Cultural Policy. Drawing on our consultation with the public gallery sector in Victoria in 2020 – 2021, together with longitudinal benchmarking of our members, PGAV's submission outlines our sector's contributions to the 5 pillars underpinning the new policy – First Nations; A Place for Every Story; The Centrality of the Artist; Strong Institutions; and Reaching the Audience. It includes twenty recommendations to address the chronic sustainability challenges that are hampering Victoria's public gallery sector which, if adopted, will ensure our galleries remain a driving force in Australia's creative sector.

The PGAV's submission is available from the Resources section of our website: <https://pgav.org.au/PGAV-Reports~191>

INDUSTRY CONSULTATION

Across 2022 the PGAV contributed to industry consultations in support of Victoria's public gallery sector, including updates to the rates of pay featured in the National Association for the Visual Arts (NAVA) Code of Practice; we provided comment on the Victorian Government's Visitor Economy Master Plan Directions Paper, contributed to Central Goldfields Art Gallery's inaugural Strategic Plan, participated in the Greater South East Melbourne (GSEM) Cultural Industries and Cultural Tourism Strategy; and joined the Australian Festivals Association (AFA) Just Add Music Project Reference Group which provided advice and allocated funding to strengthen the Victorian festival ecosystem.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the members of the Public Galleries Association of Victoria Inc.

Opinion

I have audited the financial report of Public Galleries Association of Victoria Incorporated (the Entity) which comprises the Statement of Financial Position as at 31st December 2022, the Statement of Profit and Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Equity, and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, notes to the financial statements including a summary of significant accounting policies and the declaration by those charged with governance.

In my opinion, the accompanying financial report gives a true and fair view of the financial position of the Entity as at the 31st of December 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, the Associations Incorporations Reform Act 2012 and the Australian Charities and Not-For-Profits Commission Act 2012.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of my report. I am independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to my audit of the financial report in Australia. I have also fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Emphasis of Matter – Basis of Accounting

We draw attention to Note 1 of the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial report is prepared to assist the Association in accordance with the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the Associations Reform Act 2012. As a result, the financial report may not be suitable for another purpose. Our report is intended solely for the Association and should not be distributed to or used by parties other than the Association. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Report

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Report

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an Auditor's Report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but it is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is a sufficient and appropriate to provide the basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than that for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

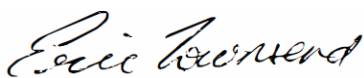

Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control.

Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit of evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my Auditor's Report to the disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my Auditor's Report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease or continue as a going concern.

Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.
